To whom it may concern:

I am Lucas, a 7th grade student at Lakeside School in Seattle and I am writing to you to urge you to allow people to copyright AI generated art. In class we have done extensive research about AI including using some AI tools.

I believe this because even though AI is creating the image there is a significant amount of human input required to create an image via AI. Additionally, even though the AI is creating images based on previously created images; all art created has been influenced at least somewhat by previous art whether it is done consciously or not. However, if the prompt to create the image is not created by you then I do not think that you should own the copyright to that image because you did not create that prompt.

In summary, I strongly recommend that AI generated images are allowed to be protected by copyright. I await your response and appreciate your dedication to addressing the evolving challenges in the realm of copyright.

Sincerely,

Lucas L
